Building Inclusive Communities—One Person at a Time.

Meet Anthony

Anthony is an eight-year Afghanistan War, U.S. Marine Special Operation Forces Veteran who battled debilitating brain injuries and post-combat stress paired with financial struggles. In the middle of summer with a record-breaking heatwave Anthony and his family found themselves with a broken air conditioner and no way to purchase a new one. The excessive heat caused health issues and stress for the entire family, until the ServiceSource Foundation, in partnership with Home Depot, installed a completely new central heat and A/C system and ductwork.

"We couldn't afford repairs and never thought in million years we'd ever get a new A/C system. We cannot thank the ServiceSource Foundation enough."
